INDIANA DEMOCRATS CONFIDENT. They Are Offering Odds of Five to Three

The republicans are holding meetings morning, noon and night in public places and have engaged all the halls and theaters for the next three days. They would probably use the churches for campaign speeches on Sunday if they could get them.

"Just as good."

| Vestering the chairmen of the republican county committees throughout Indiana came here to get money that is to be given to each of here to get money that is to be given to each or them for use in their respective counties Many of them returned almost empty handed with instructions to come back tomorrow or Sunday or if they could not do this the money would be sent them in time for use.

Only a few thousand dollars was on hand for Why do you want it? The answer is in a book on distribution yesterday, but the committee has positive assurance from national headquarters that they will get all they need for legitimate uses within the next two days.

If the republicans really have no tangible and definite information on which to base their claim that they will carry the state they are making one of the hardest and best-sustained binffs on record. They draw the line on bet-ting any considerable sums, however.

All over the cities are posted offers to bet any amounts at odds of 5 to 4 and even 5 to 3 that Cleveland will carry Indiana.

This morning Editor Morss of the Sentinel called upon Harry New, editor of the Journal, and said: "I will bet you $2,500, and put the money up now, that Cleveland carries Indiana."

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—The political fight is getting very bitter in Indiana. There are charges of attempting fraud, stealing ballots, buying votes, &c., made by each party against the other. There is no reason to believe any of them.

The republicans are holding meetings morning proposed and anything problems and they are discussing the sensational possibility of a big clash between federal and state authority on next Tuesday. None of the chiefs will admit they anticipate any trouble. Nevertheless the republicans say that the federal supervisors and deputy marshals will go anywhere around the polling booths that they deem necessary, and the democratic managers and one of the most prominent of the republican managers which justifies me in telegraphing you that the republican managers do not ejected by force and arrested if they resist. Democratic national committeemen would say little this morning about the federal marshals at the polls, but it is understood that they fear trouble if the opinion of Attorney Gentrouble if the opinion of Attorney General Miller is acted upon. The national committee approves the action of the state committee in advising citizens to arrest marshals who violate the state law, and it is likely that Chairman Harrity will be heard from on this question before next Tuesday. He is waiting for certain legal opinions which he has asked.

The democratic national committee say that one result of this trouble over United States marshals will be to give the people a foretaste of the operations of the force bill and thereby cause the loss of many votes to the republican party.

are of. Tammany is a band of brothers. SOCIAL ATTENTIONS TO REPUBLICANS "These Tammany leaders are like the southern aristocracy in many ways," says a prominent member of the republican national committee. "They are southern in all their ways. Men like Mayor Grant and Dick Croker are among the princes of good fellows. They will take a well-known republican worker like me and entertain him most gorgeously. Dinners. suppers, wines, cigars, theaters, everything, in fact, that comports with good fellowship they bring to bear on a man to make him their per-sonal friend. Very few men can resist their blandishments. A man cannot leave the table of a personal friend and then denounce him a political enemy. It is very hard to divorce blandishments. A man cannot leave the table of a personal friend and then denounce him a political enemy. It is very hard to divorce social and political associations. Tammany knows this. Tammany leaders are happiest when they are wining and dining republican workers. They are great people and their organization is a political phenomenon."

Tammany can carry New York if it wants to do it. There is a very large doubt in my mind about Tammany's earn stness, however, in this campaign. Tammany has no hankering after the federal floshpots. They are very ephemeral. Tammany's civil service power here is supreme. It is for life. That tells the whole story. You cannot readily grasp the idea in Washington, because your minds are saturated with the idea that the federal offices are everything. They are mere baubles to Tammany. The tiger cares only for his own lair. Washington is a mere bagatelle. Tammany owas New York. Tammany looks upon Washington very much as you look upon Jackson City. The federal patronage is an evanescent game of chance. The city and county patronage of New York is a sure thing. It is for life. If Tammany carries New York it will be merely to show its power and not for any hope of reward from Cleveland out of the federal patronage. There is "nothing in it" for Tammany so far as Grover's election is concerned.

> Here is the history of the matter of the appointment of deputy marshals to be on hand at the polls which has eaused so much talk of late and has even found its way into the office of the Attorney General at Washington: On Monday M. L. Wood, a citizen of Selma, Ala, in Dallas county, where a very large negro population predominates, telegraphed Gen. Chas. W. Shelley, chairman of the state demogratic campaign committee that special denotes Chair W. Shelley, chairman of the state demo-cratic campaign committee, that special deputy United States marshals were being appointed at the polling places in that county. Mr. Wood wanted to know what could be done about it, as the law allowed such deputies around the polls only in cities of 20,000 inhabitants or more. Gen. Shelley answered him as follows:
> "The appointment of deputy marshals following purposes, outside of Birmingham, Molice and Montgomery, is illegal, and if appoint bile and Montgomery, is illegal, and if appointments are made and the deputy marshais should appear at the polls, and get within the thirty-foot limit, as provided by the state laws, except to cast their ballots, or if they interfere with

A DEMOCRATIC ADDRESS.

Chairman A. G. Smith of the state democratic executive committee and Chairman C.

M. Shelley of the state campaign committee have issued a joint address to the democrats of Alabama, which, on account of some of its pointed utterances, has caused a sensation.

Among other other things the address says:

"The enemy have become desperate in their desire to break the solid south, and among the hills of Pennsylvania a plot has been formulated by which they expect to snatch Alabama from her position as a democratic state by the use of a large corruption fund and where that fails by intimidation and fraud. The agents are in our midst to accomplish that purpose even now, but they must not shall not succeed.

The course of prices was irregular but the changes were very slight in most cases. The tendency was down-ward, and at noon most stocks were slightly below the closing figures of last night. Chicago gas and Ann Arbor were the only exceptions of note, the former advancing 1 per cent and the latter fractionally. At this writing (1:30 p.m.) the market is dull.

The Woman's Clinic.

The woman's Clinic.

The annual meeting of the board of the "Woman's Clinic" was held last evening at the residence of the secretary, Dr. D. S. Lamb, 800 10th street northwest. The report of the secretary showed that 866 patients had been treated during the year. The treasurer reported that there were no debts and there was a small amount on hand. Several amendments were made to the constitution and by-laws for the better working of the clinic. The new board of directors were elected and the following officers were relected and the following officers were relected: Dr. Wm. Lee, first vice president; Dr. D. S. Lamb, secretary; Dr. Minnie E. "I thought we were sitting together on the banks of a beautiful stream," he said, low and murmurously, "as the sun was sinking away to rest in the purpling stars, and we talked of birds, of music, of flowers and of love. Your face glowed as if a great light shone in it, but when I spoke of love you grew cold and distant and I could feel the chill air touching my heart and see the buds of my hope wither in the frost of your disapproval. I knew then how useless was all I could do, how futile was effort, but urged on by that mysterious power no man can explain and none resist I cast the fatal die and asked you to be mine." He stopped a moment, trembling.

"And what did I say?" she asked.

"No," and his voice grew husky and his lips quivered.

The gifts of God to our people during the past year have been so abundant and so special that the spirit of devout thanksgiving awaits not a call, but only the appointment of a day when it may have a common expression. He has stayed the pestilence at our door; He has given us more love for the free civil institutions in the creation of which His directing Providence was so conspicuous; He has awakened a deeper reverence for law; 14s He has widened our philanthropy by a call to
